2016 ANNUAL REPORT

CASS COUNTY A place where...

Our place...

What makes a place? Is it a dot on a map? A building? An intersection of two roads? We would argue that a place is recognized by the memories we leave, by the times we spend together, and the shared experiences of the people who choose to live there. While each person has their own perspective, it is this collective sense of place that defines why we love and call Cass County home.

Cass County is more than an area on a map and even though our Community Foundation is defined by boundaries on a map, this place we call home has many more dimensions and a vibrancy of life that must be experienced to appreciate. It is a place where the American Dream is still alive, where neighbors greet each other and people hold doors for others. It is a place where we remember our history and plan for a future. It is a place where giving to others is a way of life and not an afterthought.

Through gifts to the Community Foundation, Cass County is a place where education happens... a place where giving grows, a place where neighbors gather and help each other... a place where lives are changed.

We love Cass County and are humbled by the generous people who sacrifice their time, talent, and treasure to give back to this place we all call home.

A place where generosity is honored...

Julian and Sue Ridlen

Named 2016 Richard W. Cassidy Jr. "Thanks for Giving" Award

On a bright, sunny Sunday in November, a crowd of over a hundred people gathered at Dessert First for the Cass County Community Foundation's "Thanks for Giving" celebration, a donor and volunteer recognition event. The highlight of the afternoon was the awarding of the 2016 Dick Cassidy Thanks for Giving outstanding community volunteer award to Julian and Sue Ridlen.

The award is given to an individual, or in this case, individuals, who through their unselfish and outstanding commitment of time, talent and treasure, embodies the CCCF spirit of giving. When announcing the award, Deanna Crispen, CCCF President said, "Julian and Sue truly exemplify the meaning behind this award. Their service and commitment to the Community Foundation, Cass County, the State of Indiana, and our nation as a couple is simply unbelievable. When I looked back through their accomplishments and thought about all the lives these two generous people have touched it is clear that both Sue and Julian have led a life filled with passion for those around them."

IU Kokomo Chancellor Sue Sciame Giesecke, Circuit Court Judge Leo Burns, and State Senator Randy Head all offered comments witnessing the lifelong community service of the Ridlens.

*The Cara D. Chambers-Stienbarger
Memorial Scholarship Endowment Fund*

When someone you love dies, you want people to keep saying their name because you want everyone to remember your loved one. When Cara passed away in June 2012 our family knew one way we could keep our community saying her name was to establish a scholarship in her memory. Cara graduated from Logansport High School in 1993 and Purdue University in 1997. She lived in Indianapolis right after graduation, but eventually moved back to Logansport to work in the family John Deere business. Cara worked in an industry that was dominated by males and she handled herself with grace in the face of daily challenges. In many ways, she was a trailblazer in the working world.

While her degree from Purdue was in environmental science her passion always laid in her love of animals. She thought seriously about becoming a veterinarian, but ultimately decided against it. We have so many stories about Cara and her animals, from horses to hamsters, to ducks, to her cats and dogs. She was always finding a home for the strays that entered her life. Cara was a hard worker and held herself to a high standard of performance with whatever she was doing whether that was academics, her career, or daily living. We established Cara's scholarship to help a female high school graduate from LHS headed to Purdue. Our family will work with the Cass County Community Foundation every year to find a winner to help us say Cara's name.

Charlie Hamm Golf Scholarship Endowment

I decided to start the Charles R Hamm Memorial Scholarship Fund on the advice of Suzie Timmons Oliver and Michael Timmons, two of Charlie's dear friends. We wanted to do something we knew Charlie would like and be proud of. Charlie was an avid golfer. He spent most of his childhood and early adult life at Dykeman Golf Course. He was on the LHS golf team throughout his high school years. Golf provided Charlie the opportunity to do something he loved and brought him much joy and friendship all of his life. The company Charlie worked for, Pearl Abrasive, gave the first donation to commemorate Charlie, and we went from that, to where we are now. I'm honored to be a part of a scholarship that will help an LHS senior golfer with their college efforts, and I know Charlie is also very honored and very proud.

E. James Hayes Scholarship Fund

Edward James (Jim) Hayes (1936-2016) was born at St. Josephs Hospital in Logansport. He attended Daniel Webster and St. Vincent de Paul grade schools and Logansport High School, where he was a member of the band and orchestra, as well as a participant in many other activities. Recipient of a merit scholarship, he earned a bachelors degree in education at Indiana University in Bloomington and later a masters degree in English from The Catholic University of America, Washington, DC. After teaching in high schools in Bloomington and Twelve Mile, Indiana, and Oneonta, New York, he spent the major portion of his teaching career in Batesville, Indiana, where he taught English and directed student theatrical productions. After teaching for over 33 years, he retired in Logansport, where he enjoyed reading mysteries, working cross-words, and watching movies, as well as traveling in the U.S. and abroad. The E. James Hayes Scholarship Fund was established to encourage Cass County high school students to become teachers of English and related areas.

Team Hix/ Joe Allen Memorial Scholarship Fund

Joe Allen became a well-known and much loved resident of Logansport after opening Designer Joe's Haircare and Nails in 1984. Prior to opening the salon, he worked construction and on the family farm near Lucerne. Regardless of the type of work he was always conscientious, dedicated, caring, and hard working.

Joe was a devoted family man that always put his family and others before himself. He strived to make everyone happy and enjoyed helping others. This scholarship was created by his family and Team Hix, an outdoor club he loved, to help carry on Joe's "heart of gold" legacy. The scholarship requirements are the student be a Cass county resident pursuing a college degree in the outdoors, which was Joe's passion. The award started as a one-time $1000 scholarship, but the hope is to build it in order to further help more students.

An annual golf outing is now held at Pond View Golf Course to continue to raise funds for this scholarship.

Dr. Joseph H. Conrad Scholarship Endowment Fund

Our father, Joseph Henry Conrad was born on a small farm in Cass County, Indiana on December 7, 1926. Growing up as the oldest son in a single parent household during the Great Depression, he learned the value of hard work, perseverance and responsibility at a very young age. He went on to work his way through college, earning a degree in animal science from Purdue University in 1950. He taught at Royal Center High School from 1950 to 1952, then returned to Purdue to earn his Masters and Doctoral degrees in animal science where he served as a faculty professor for 17 years. In 1995, he accepted the position as Coordinator of International Animal Science Programs at the University of Florida.

His career enabled him to travel extensively throughout the world, yet we always knew that Dad was a Hoosier at heart. He spent his last days in rural Indiana, and selected a small cemetery at the edge of a Cass County cornfield as his final resting place. Our family is grateful for the opportunity to partner with the Cass County Community Foundation in the creation of the Dr. Joseph H. Conrad scholarship fund. As his children, we were constantly reminded of the importance of a quality marketable education. We cannot envision a more appropriate memorial to honor our father than a fund in his name to assist dedicated students in this community achieve their academic goals.

Tom Helms Family Memorial 4-H Scholarship

Tom and Barb Helms were married in October of 1961 and were married for 53 years. They shared the love of the land, family and 4-H. Rooted in Cass County and not straying far from home, Tom and Barb participated in 4-H in Cass County as teenagers and continued as adults serving on the Swine Committee and as a Board of Director. The couple shared many proud moments and memories, watching their three children participate in 4-H and later their five grandchildren.

Tom and Barb always felt that higher education was an investment in the future. Through the Community Foundation the family is able to continue to support 4-Hers in their dreams in obtaining a college degree with this scholarship.

Lisa Vautaw Arnett Memorial Scholarship

Lisa Arnett was a longtime teacher in Cass County. Teaching at both All Saints Catholic School and Lincoln Middle School for almost twenty years, she was able to impact many students lives. Lisa not only taught students academically, but also lived a life that radiated love. Sadly, Lisa lost her battle to breast cancer in October of 2015. In order to continue her legacy, her family decided to create a scholarship fund to assist a student to further his or her education. Lisa valued education and it was a great honor in her life to teach children in the Cass County community for so many years.

The Lisa Arnett Memorial Scholarship was formed to help a student in the community achieve their educational goals. Scholastic ability and community involvement are components of the application process. In addition, students are also asked to provide insight into how they plan to emulate the life and legacy of Lisa in their own lives. It is her familys hope, that this scholarship will be a way for Lisa's life and legacy to live on for years to come.

Lisa valued education and it was a great honor in her life to teach children in the Cass County community for so many years.

A place where businesses care...

Steinberger Community Fund

At Steinberger, we try our best to support the community that helps build us and our business. When we were made aware of the opportunity to leverage our giving with matching funds toward an unrestricted endowment at the Community Foundation, it made absolute sense.

The Cass County Community Foundation has been able to accomplish a lot in our community through these funds, by providing local grants that really make an impact on the lives they reach. Whether it be life-saving devices to our emergency responders, supporting the local arts, funding greenhouses to help grow flowers to beautify our city streets, or even providing a means for our students to travel to the Macy's parade or to compete in the world finals in robotics, the Foundation has always looked to make a direct impact.

We are glad to play a part in such an amazing opportunity and are excited to see what our contributions, combined with others in our community, can do to improve our city, county, and region.

The Steinberger Team

We try our best to support the community that helps build us and our business.

LILLY SCHOLARSHIP

2016 LILLY SCHOLAR SYDNEY SOFRONICI

“The glue that held our team together”

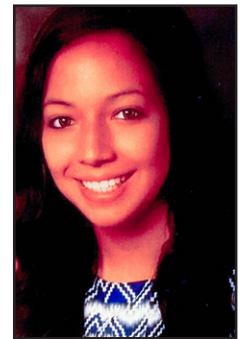

You might think being ranked at the top of the class would be enough, but for Sydney Sofronici, the Cass County 2016 Lilly Endowment Community Scholar's excellence was more than academics during her high school career at Lewis Cass. Sydney inspired other students both in the classroom and on the field. Sydney was described as being, “the glue that held our cross country team together” by Coach Denise Rush for her support of the other team members success. Sofronici was a two-sport athlete at Lewis Cass and received Academic All-State recognition in both Track and Cross Country. She also received awards in music and was a three-year section leader for the Lewis Cass Band that appeared in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in 2015.

Sydney is the daughter of Judy McCloskey and Radu Sofronici and plans to attend Purdue University and pursue a degree in biomedical engineering. Her further aspirations include participating in a collaborative program between Purdue and the Indiana University School of Medicine that will result in a doctorate degree from Purdue and a medical degree from Indiana University. As a biomedical engineer Sydney plans to specialize in the development of in vitro tissues to be used for organ transplants.
